

International Free Q&A Game Membership”

Are you interested in starting a business, purchasing a business, or selling a business? Because any business is one of the most important steps you will ever take in your life time, along with marriage, and purchasing your first home.

The “International Educational Q&A Game” you just purchased (and we thank you for the purchase) is called BIZ O’NOMICS ©™ and was created to assist every existing business owner, and new start-ups to be successful.

Your business investment will require daily decisions, and many of those decisions may have to be made on the spot, and made on a regular basis. Most, or much of the information needed in business can be found within your BIZ O’NOMICS ©™ board game. Just by entering your User Name, and Password, you can enter the game as many times, and as often as the player has the desire to play on his, or her own time, or to play against a business opponent.

You can also use your BIZ O’NOMICS © Q&A game to discuss business strategists will other business owners from your local neighborhood grocery store, or other shopping outlets. If you wish to suspend playing the game at any time, just mark, and save the last question, you can then pick up the game from the point, when you return to replay the game. If you are playing with an international opponent the process will work in the same exact manner, but keep in mind the time zone will vary.

Each month BIZ O’NOMICS ©™ will offer 5 new questions, and answers, and those questions, and answers will be added to the board game at no cost to the members, and is being offered to further the members business interest and ongoing business educational support. *The new questions will start with number 101, and up to 105, all players will receive these new questions by way of your monthly Free Newsletter.
